Favorite memory of season?

Brie Zerger (#15)

"Brooke Banning's celebration after her goal in her final game ever for Bethel. She put her hands up and gave the number one sign. It was hilarious."

Kelsey Peterson (#9)

"The game that we won against Sterling. I knew a lot of people on their team so it was a fun battle. We even pulled out our only conference win."

Nichole Gabriel (#6)

"When we lost to Southwestern during the regular season, but then ended up beating them in a scrimmage in the offseason after double overtime and a shootout."

Cross Country

Runners keep pace despite bumpy trail

After five meets and one cancellation, the men and women's cross country teams went into the Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference (KCAC) Championship meet with some high individual placements, but overall no high team finish. Head coach Ryan Bourque said this was because the women runners were young and needed a year to grow, while the men faced a number of injuries and illnesses that damaged their ability to compete.

Placing in the top 20 for Bethel was Katelyn Fatten, freshman from Riverside Calif., with a 16th place finish and a time of 20:22.30. On the men's race, Wes Goodrich, senior from Independence, and Laird Goertzen, sophomore from Goessel, were the highest placing Bethel runners with times of 29:53.12 and 29:58.12.

The year was also an important milestone for the team as it hosted the first annual Bethel Invitational meet. In October, races were run in the field north of the Mennonite Central Committee building. Women were the first to blaze the trail and begin their 5K run, setting out in mid morning. The men began their 8K shortly after at 10:45. The Bethel runners had stiff competition, as ten other colleges (both from the KCAC and community college levels) were competing to place at the meet.

On the women's side of the meet, Fatten led the way placing 6th out of 39 runners with a time of 20:56.60. Fatten's top ten finish would earn her KCAC runner of the week. Shortly behind Fatten, Regina Hafner, junior from Panora, Iowa, would finish in 9th place with a time of 21:28.70. While there were no other qualifiers, the women's team would finish 2nd overall in the meet.

The men's team, which did not record a team score, did have some runners perform well and achieve notable times. Laird Goertzen, sophomore from Newton, led the Threshers placing 22nd out of 62 runners, with a time of 29:45. Goertzen's performance would also earn him KCAC runner of the week.

"Meet results don't do justice to the true success we achieved as a team during this season."

"It is my new love teaching the word of God. I don't think I bring joy but I know that the word that is brought forth brings: love, joy, peace, strength, and comfort. I love to bring what the Lord has given me and revealed to me, and I love to hear what they are getting out of the word of God."

"This year was definitely a year of new things. We had quite a few new players and a new coach which meant a lot of change. I learned so much this year and loved how close our team got during the season."

– Katie Regier

"I believe throughout the season we never gave up, we were always there for one another through the good and the bad. Without the positivity of our coach we would have never been able to get as far as we did."

Football

The 2013-2014 season for the Bethel College football program opened with a 41-24 win over the visiting Haskell Indians, a game which marked the first home-opening victory for the Threshers since 2008. The Threshers also finished the season with a significant win over the Bethany Swedes.

"It felt great to finally get a couple wins for the hard work we put in. We had an unselfish team that was willing to go to battle with and for each other. There's no better feeling than having a team like that."

Threshers win season finale

At Bethel College football's senior day, the Threshers sent their seniors out in style with a 26-14 win over conference foe Bethany College.

After a scoreless first quarter in which both offenses struggled, the first score of the game came with no time left in the first half. On an attempted field goal, senior defensive lineman Garrett Garcia blocked the kick, which was then picked up and returned 100 yards for a touchdown by Terrance Toney to give the Threshers a 6-0 halftime lead. In the second half, the high octane offense for the Threshers took over. Two third-quarter touchdowns, one 58-yard reception from Tommy Alexander and one two-yard run from Stephen Scott would put the Threshers ahead 20-0 going into the fourth quarter.

The Thresher defense surrendered a touchdown with just over eight minutes in the fourth, and allowed another late one. Yet the Threshers came through with a 27-yard touchdown connection from Pratt to Alexander to make the final score 26-14. The victory gave Bethel their second win of the season.

Pratt ended his career with one of the most efficient games of his career, putting up just four incompletions on the afternoon and adding two big-time touchdowns in the air attack. Alexander ended his season by corralling six catches for 110 yards and two touchdowns on the day.

The defense for the Threshers played their best game of the season against the Swedes and kept the team in the game while the offense worked through its early struggles. Garcia ended his career as a Thresher with a tremendous game that included two tackles for a loss, an interception, a blocked field goal, and one fumble recovery. The entire defense played accumulated 71 tackles on the afternoon.

Overall, the game was the definition of a team victory for the Threshers. One of the goals the team set before the game was to send out the seniors with a win. After an afternoon of hard work and determination the Thresher football team stepped up and ended the season the same way they started it; with a big-time team victory.

"The most enjoyable part about these four years is the friends I've made, people that I might not have known otherwise."

Students celebrate a snow day

Newton was hit with below zero temperatures and over eight inches of snow and classes were cancelled for Wednesday, February 5th. Most students took advantage of the free day by playing Ulitmate on the green, taking pictures of the beautiful snowfall, sledding and exploring the frozen campus. The last time Bethel cancelled classes was March of 2013 also due to bad weather.

Are We There Yet?

"The funnest part about Haiti was going to the Citadelle. It was interesting to see how several countries defended the island from the French."

-Tanner Steingard

"The Chicago trip was very engaging and insightful in experiencing social and cultural issues raised throughout a large community."

-Adam Ewy

Over the interterm portion of the fall semester, Bethel students packed their bags, boarded planes and trains, and headed overseas or to bigger cities in the U.S. Students ventured all the way to Europe, others to Haiti, and some to Chicago.

The trip to Europe was one that many students anticiapted all semester. The group lucky to go was the Bethel College Concert Choir. The group consisted of all concert choir members and director, and lasted for two weeks. Once in Europe they traveled to 18 different cities and performed 12 concerts. Some of the cities and coutries that they visited included: Warsaw, Poland, Gdansk, Poland, Malbork, Poland, Berlin, Germany, Witten, Germany, Leipzip, Germany, Schwandorf, Germany, Weimar, Germany, Eisenach Germany, Bielfeld, Germany, Hambury, Germany, and Frankfurt Germany. "Europe brought an even stronger sense of community to me with my fellow choir members. The experience of europe will always have a special place in my heart," said Daniel Barrera.

The next group that left for the month of January was a group of Nursing, Athletic Training, and Social Work majors, who left for a week to the third world country Haiti. While on the trip, students visited different cities in the area and were able to meet different Haitian people.

"Throughout my entire time in Haiti, there are so many smells and sights I wish I could share in a picture," said Steph Shogren. "Haiti is a beautiful, breathtaking country where the people are so welcoming and would do absolutely anything for you not wanting anything in return. My trip to Haiti was one of the best times of my life – from the people I traveled with, the people we met, and the sites I saw, it was undoubtedly a place that will forever have a place in my heart."

The last trip was the only one within the U.S. to Chicago, IL. After an eleven hour train ride the students of the MultiCulural Studies in Drama class were greeted by cold weather and snow in the Windy City. The class was able to see many big time drama performances as well as tour the big city, and try not to get lost.

In their freetime in Chicago, the students had the opportunity to experince the big city life. Some went to Chicage Bulls games, while others went to comedy shows downtown. Of course some students visited the local bars.

Thresher cheer squad has action-packed season

The 2013-2014 squad was composed of Julia Campfield, Amy Wedel, Erin Doerksen, Renae Stucky, Hayley Morrical, Jake Sperry, Edward Davila, and Joe Thompson. Head coach Jill Fenske, in her second year, organized Bethel's first ever home competition against Kansas Wesleyan University. The Thresher cheer team lost by a mere six points, but were able to practice several stunts and routines.

The team had a busy year as it motivated both the football and basketball teams while taking on the challenge of individual competitions. Not only did it cheer on the sidelines, but fundraised in the fall for a newly-established scholarship fund. The Jim Deberry scholarship fund clay sport shoot allowed squad members to take a step out of their comfort zones and help operate the shoot.

In November a few cheerleaders helped with the 20th annual Memorabilia Auction for Special Olympics of Kansas. The sports -related auction gave them the opportunity to spend time helping to raise money for a great cause.

The squad opted not to participate in the KCAC championship after the event was deemed an 'exhibition' rather than a competition.

BASKETBALL

The women's basketball team showed vast improvement in 2013-2014 from the previous season. The Threshers won four more games for the year and held a 12-17 overall record.

It was a hot and cold season for the Lady Threshers as they put together two or three game winning streaks only to turn around and lose multiple games in a row.

Of the Threshers twelve wins this season, many came down to the final few seconds of the games. The most notable of these wins was against Oklahoma Wesleyan University, which was ranked eighth in the nation at the time.

That was a back and forth game, but the Threhers converted on important possesions and walked away with a 77-74 win.

The Threshers also had a thrilling buzzer beater win in an away game against the Warriors of Sterling College.

With time running down and the Threshers in possesion of the ball, Lauren Ulrich took a shot with only three seconds left on the clock that rolled off the rim. Luckily, Jessica Ebenkamp was perfectly positioned to grab the rebound and lay the ball in right as the buzzer went off. Ebenkamp's last-second layup won the game for the Threshers 61-60.

The Threshers had one last fascinating win, when they beat the Coyotes of Kansas Wesleyan University.

Against the Coyotes, the Threshers found themselves down by ten points with just around three minutes to play in the game. Led by Lauren Ulrich, the Threshers rolled right back into the game, tying it with just under 30 seconds to play. Ulrich came close to sealing the deal by hitting an uncontested three point shot.

The game would head into to overtime, with the Threshers eventually squeezing by and winning 89-88.

"Beating the nationally ranked number eight team was a great confidence booster that let us know that we could compete with anyone. It was also great to find the team chemistry that we knew we had."

-Taylor Durant

"Even though we had a rough year, we came closer as a team, and as individuals."

- Preston Kolbeck

The men's basketball team may of had a rough season going 0-27, but the team showed promise for future years.

A particularly positive game was the matchup against KCAC opponent Ottawa University.

The Threshers were in the game from start to finish and looked to have it in the bag after Trever Ford hit two freethrows to give the Threshers a 81-80 lead.

In the next possesion the Threshers held the Braves to the bottom of the shot clock, but after a missed layup the Braves were there to tip the ball in, taking an 82-81 lead over the Threshers.

With only seven seconds left on the clock the Threshers inbounded the ball to Jenson Kingsley who took a fading three for the win, but the shot rattled in and out.

Bethel would end up falling to the Braves 81-82, but this was quite possibly the funnest game of the year for the team.

"We showed out true potential that game. It's a shame that we couldn't play like that all year," Kingsley said.

"Even though we had a tough year it was fun experiencing what college basketball is all about, and just being a part of a team was fun."

Here's What's Cool!

Original Collegian article by Erin Bradley

Whether he is running with friends or working in the lab, Professor of Chemistry Gary Histand enjoys being involved and keeping busy. Histand, who has worked at Bethel for 15 years and has many hobbies, found his way to chemistry during his undergrad years at Hesston College.

"The first two years I took math, physics and chemistry," Histand said. "(I) took my exam and chemistry seemed to be a good, natural fit." Histand decided on chemistry because it isn't like other sciences.

"In addition to having to think, there is also an aspect of it where you can work with your hands," Histand said. "I really like doing things. I don't like having to sit and think the whole time. I can go in the lab and do a little of this and a little of that and create things, make things happen. I like that. Sort of a combination of hand and mental skills."

After Hesston, Histand went home to finish up his undergrad. He then met his wife, Carla. Together, they went to graduate school at Northwestern University. There he got his master's degree and Ph.D. While at Northwestern, [illegible] ple lived in a community [illegible] ba's Place Fellowship. Alth[illegible] lived there, they did not participate in everything the community offered. After graduating, Histand worked at Delaware Valley College and Eastern College. He then made his way to Bethel.

"I was always interested in the church-related Mennonite higher ed.," Histand said. "There was a position here and it seemed to fit with some of the gifts and talents I have, so I applied." Histand's interests and gifts vary. One thing he has had an interest in is China. "Through the years, there have been various interests I have had with China. In chemistry, graduate school is very international. So I shared a lab with a young lady from Beijing for three and a half years. I have had other friends throughout the years who have been Chinese," Histand said.

Recently, Histand and his wife have decided to spend their summers in China teaching English. "For the last two summers my wife and I have gone to China to work with an organization that places North American Christians in a setting where they are teaching English to Chinese teachers of English. Basically an English boot camp," Histand said.

The workshop is basically an interterm course. The teachers and the teachers who are learning go in from 8 a.m. – 5 p.m. and work on learning how to teach English. The program lasts about a month. "[We learned about the program] directly from Jim and Shirley Goering," Histand said. "I knew they were interested in China and had experience in China. So I talked with them about sort of my long-term interest in China. And they said 'Why don't you come with us to China in the summer?' Because they had sort of been doing summer programs for about 12 years. So we went with them last summer."

Some of Histand's other interests are running and biking. Although biking is more of a mode of transportation for Histand, running is something that is significant in Histand's life.

The Pirates of Penzance

"Working with some hilarious people and getting tossed around was pretty fun. Also, by the end of the production all of us smelled like authentic pirates, which was an added bonus!" –Will Lewis

The Pirates of Penzance, or, The Slave of Duty, is about a goofy band of sappy pirates, a major general's large family of girls, some policemen and the shenanigans that follow the groups' interactions.

The two act comic opera was the first of Arthur Sullivan and W. S. Gilbert's collaborations to have its official premiere in the United States (New York City, Dec. 31, 1879) and it has been an audience favorite ever since.

The story revolves around Frederic, an apprentice with a pirate band based in Cornwall, who has just completed his 21st year. He leaves the pirates and meets Mabel, the daughter of Major General Stanley. Frederic and Mabel fall instantly in love.

However, Frederic discovers he was born on Feb. 29, meaning he technically has a birthday only in a leap year. His apprenticeship terms dictate he must serve the pirates until his 21st birthday – another 63 years. Bound by his own sense of duty, Frederic's only solace is that Mabel agrees to wait for him faithfully.

MEN'S TENNIS

A Banner Season for a Young Team

The 2013-2014 men's tennis season turned out to be a huge one for Bethel and its talented athletes.

It ended at the KCAC semifinal match against McPherson College, which barely slipped away from the Threshers by a score of 5-4.

In all, however, the season was hugely successful and marked the start of a new era of men's tennis dominance in the conference. It ended with the Threshers up 10-3 against opponents, including lopsided victories against rivals like Tabor College (a 9-0 win).

The team was led by a trio of strong seniors in Clinton Chlumsky, Kristopher Dubach and Wesley Goodrich. Chlumsky finished the year 13-5 in singles and 13-3 when teamed with junior Jesse Voth-Gaeddert in doubles play.

Other leaders, such as sophomore Logan Palenske, contributed greatly to the team. Palenske finished 16-4 in singles play and a combined 33-6 when doubles matches alongside Chris Soosalu are added. Palenske was later named to the 2014 NAIA All-American team.

Final record: 10-3

The Forensics team once again made it to the national tournament, having qualified four of its five members.

Qualifiying meant that Bethel was one of the six schools in the entire nation to qualify at least one person for nationals each year of the program's exsistence.

This year's tournament was held at Arizona State University and was a week long tournament that all of the team members enjoyed.

Senior Henry Unruh qualified for impromtu speaking, extemporaneous speaking, and after-dinner speaking.

Junior Leland Brown qualifed in dramatic interpretation.

Freshman Jacob Miller qualified in informative speaking and afer dinner speaking.

Freshman Clinton Unruh qualified in extemporaneous speaking, and after dinner speaking.

At the end of the competition, the team finished in 49th place in the nation.

Sophomore Hannah Brinker, who did not compete at nationals, enjoyed a great season in prose interpretation and dramatic interpretation.

"Forensics was an awesome experience this yeear, especially with first year head coach Mallory Marsh. She along with Mark and Gail Stucky did an amazing job. I learned a lot during my second year competing in this activity and owe everything to my teammates and coaches."

"Placing really well in the conference tournament at Carey park in the fall. All players had a good year; the ones that stood out though were freshman Kyle Regier and senior Chris Santoya in the fall season."

– Gregg Dick

"I felt like the season went well, we had a couple of rough tournaments with lots of wind that was a struggle sometimes, but we fought through it, with signs of good scores. We had our ups and downs, but we definitely improved a lot through out the season. Our team was up to par, you could say. I really enjoyed being apart of this team, and will really miss playing with these guys."

art shows

Students showcase variety of artistic talents

The annual student art exhibit was open from April 4-April 25. The exhibit featured work of students in 2013-14 art classes from a variety of academic disciplines, in media including painting, drawing, photography, ceramics, sculpture, jewelry and book arts.

The Senior Art Exhibit opened on May 1 in the Fine Arts Center Gallering. It featured the work of four graduating seniors, highlighting photography and graphic design, along with drawing by one of the students.

Sara Boman, Goessel, exhibited photography, who graduated with a B.A. in art.

Edward Davila, currently of Hesston and originally from San Antonio, Texas, also exhibited his photography. Davila also graduated with a B.A. in art.

"It is the hope of every artist to convey some emotion, message or meaning, but it is only upon the platform of graphic design that an artist can verbally tell the viewer the message, and support this message with elements of design."
–Samantha Sheridan, senior

Two students displayed their work in graphic design, becoming the first two graduates of the new Bethel College design curriculum.

Samantha Sheridan, currently of Newton and originally from San Diego, California, graduated with a B.A. in graphic design.

Audra Miller, Hesston, graduated with a B.A. and a triple major in art, communication arts and graphic design.

In addition to examples of her graphic design work, Miller also showed drawings.

The four were students of David Long, professor of art, Rachel Epp Buller, assistant professor of art, and Gail Lutsch, professor emeritus of art.

A reception was held May 16 outside the gallery to coincide with commencement weekend celebrations and honor the four students.

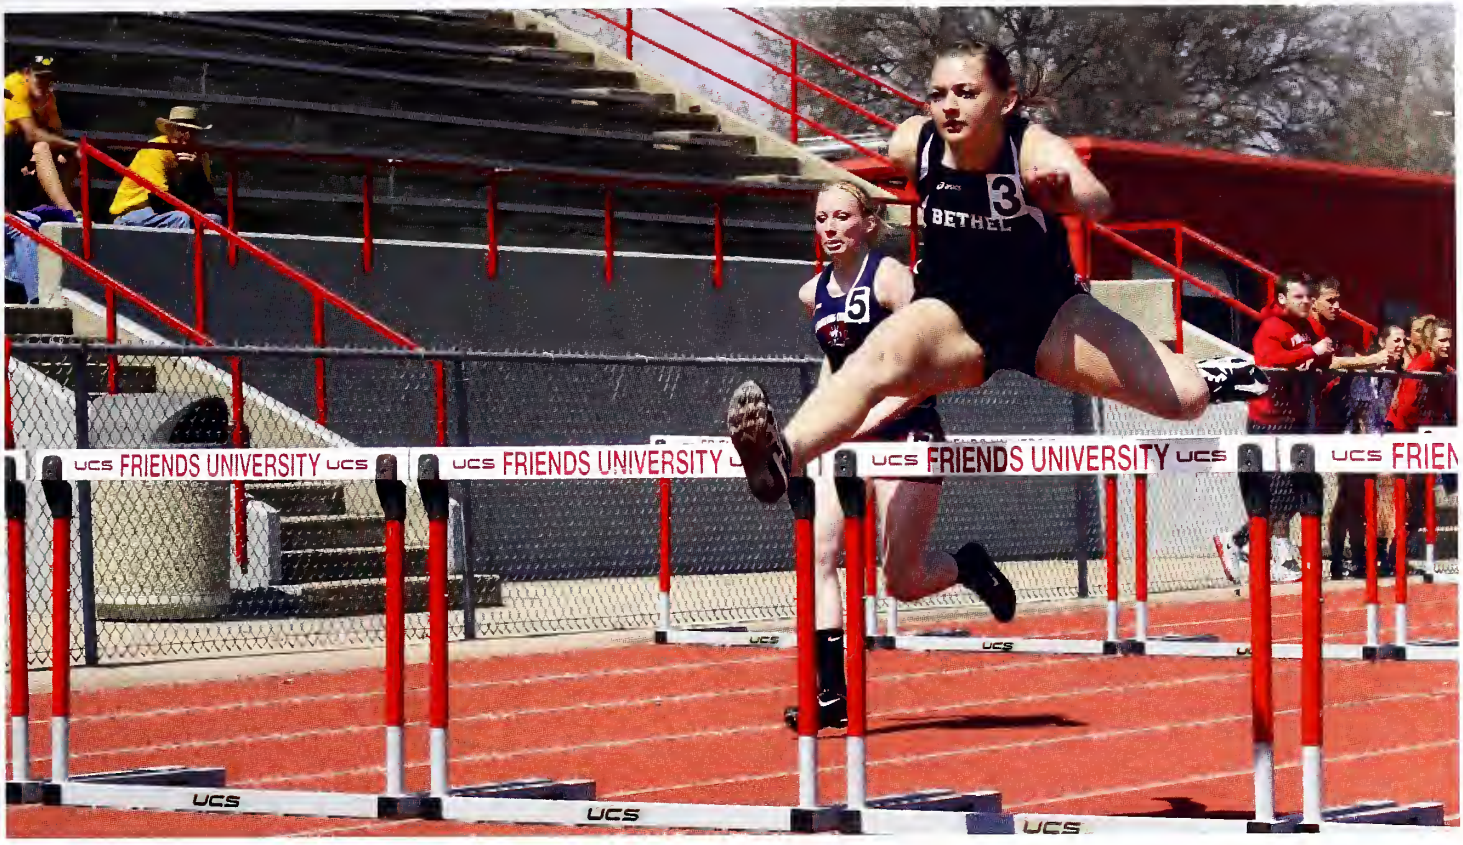
Track & Field



Track qualifies athletes for national meet

Bethel College hosted the 2014 KCAC Outdoor Track and Field Championships on May 2 and 3.

The men had only 8 points at the end of the first day but charged forward the next day, moving up to 8th place with 38 points.

Terrance Toney and Peter Devin finished neck and neck in the 100M dash with times of 11.03 and 11.06 seconds respectively. Toney's time of 11.03 seconds was a college best. They combined for 6th and 7th place.

Jason Friesen placed second in the 400M Hurdles with a personal best time of 53.62s. This time met the NAIA "A" qualifying mark of 53.80s and was the 10th best in the NAIA for the year.

The 4x100M relay was hotly contested as less than 1/2 of a second separated the top five teams. The relay consisted of Devin Peters, Aaron Aikens, Xavier Caldwell, and Terrance Toney. They ran a competitive time of 41.91 seconds to earn 5th place in the event. This was the best time on the year for the Threshers and met the NAIA "B" qualifying standard.

Jason Friesen, Matthew Rodenberg, Ryan Ford, and Justin Haflich ran a 3:35.35 relay to earn 7th place in the conference. Jake Sperry threw a personal best of 13.54m in shot put to earn 5th place.

Triple Jump - Cory Graber and Tyler Kauffman finished 6th and 7th place with jumps of 13.18 and 13.03 respectively. Tyler's mark was a personal best.

After two days of competition, the women finished in 10th place with a total of 22 points. Erin Bradley earned a 2nd place finish in the discus. She also placed 8th in shot put with a throw of 10.49m.

Bryan Riettcheck, Alli Rudeen, and Michelle Kauffman earned an additional six points in javelin the second day.

Katelyn Fatten ran in the 800M race with a time of 2:29.57, earning her 7th place.

In the 400M hurdles, Tia Goertzen ran a personal best 1:09.64 to take 6th place.

riesen qualified for nationals in 400m hurdles and Caldwell in long jump, the two individuals joined by the 4x100 M relay team.
